*Service

God*

Springs and summers, autumns and winters merge and blend to form the happy times known as high school. This book, the Cardinal, symbolizes the passing of another memorable year—a very enjoyable year providing a chance for each student to aid our school working side by side with all the other members. Everyone has indeed helped our school with discretion and enthusiasm. This is the true spirit of service—willingness. We must naturally have respect for the work that is done, but the desire for it is ever more essential. Through the excitement, apprehension, esprit de corps, working as ideal mixtures, we can remember and recall how we have enjoyed the benefits that each helped to give.

Let us not forget the day our student body officers stepped into office, then elected industrious, willing workers to follow as leaders next year. Pride was displayed in our newly completed grandstands and the gym buildings. With the switchboard, clocks and heating installed during the year, more efficiency was added to benefit the entire school.

Here in these pages we all meet again, some for the last time before going to serve elsewhere. Our friends remind us of each joyous moment told page by page through this book, unlocking memories cherished and never forgotten.

DED

To our teachers and boys who were called into our armed forces, our dedication this year expresses the sincere confidence that they can loyally and proudly do their duty.

Lt. "Doc" Sooter reported to San Diego, where he now has the position of assistant officer in charge of physical training of the athletic department. This is much the same job that he held here. Because of his liking for this work, we hope that Lt. Sooter can now serve the Navy as well as he served us.

Lt. W. M. Sooter

Lt. T. W. Preston

In November our commercial teacher, Lt. Preston, was called by the reserves to report to Camp Pendleton. As a first lieutenant he was shipped to Korea where he fought. At the time of this writing he has been sent to Hongchon for a well deserved rest. We hope he will soon be back here permanently to resume his teaching.

In closing, we express our humble gratitude to those who have left our school for their country.

ADMINISTRATION

This year we must not overlook the great men and women who guided us on during this past season. From their immense knowledge and liberal minds they endeavor to enlighten us for a richer life and assist in guiding the students with a democratic student government. The school board, administration, faculty, and all the workers are responsible in giving to us an education and understanding that we will never lose nor forget.

. BUS DRIVERS . . CUSTODIANS .

ADMINISTRATION

These men do more than just sit at their desks every day; they are the hard working men who are always striving to improve our school and keep it running smoothly. Mr. Shaver, at his shiny-topped desk, makes important decisions for us; Mr. Corbin has the big task of solving student problems; Mr. White supervises the maintenance of our buildings and grounds; and Dr. Ross unerringly fulfills the great task of adult education. Each working together at his own job helps to combine talents into a marvelous display of efficient administration.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In the hands of the Board of Trustees rests the administrative responsibility of our school. These outstanding leaders give their time and energy without remuneration for the benefit of both parents and students. The group meets once a month to fulfill their obligation to appoint employees, set up salary schedules, and care for the business problems. During the past two years much time and thought was necessary in the construction of the Baldwin Park school and the setting up of a new administrative organization. We appreciate these people who work "behind the scenes" bringing us a sound educational program.

Mrs. Ekeroth (chairman of Counseling Department), Mr. Wooden (attendance supervisor), Mrs. Hall (dean of girls and chairman of Girls' Physical Education Department)

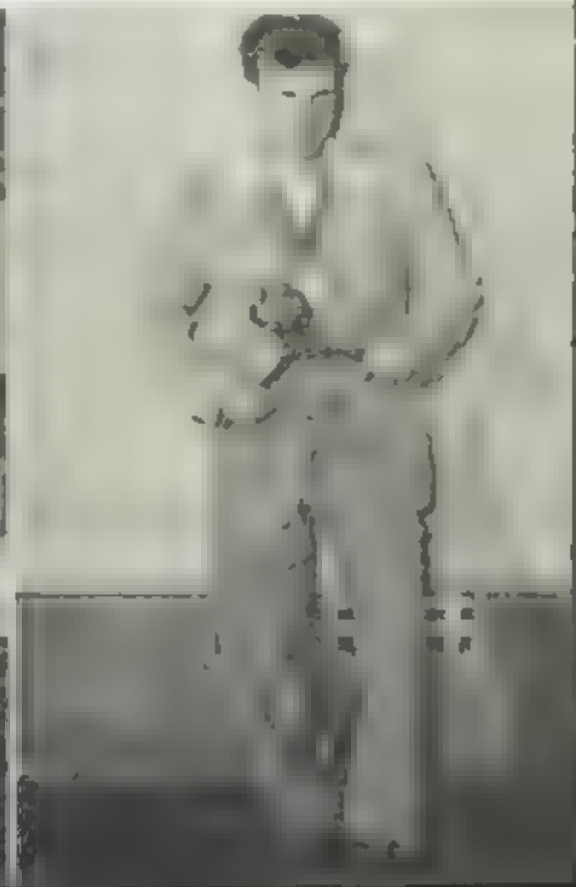

During the year our teachers give to each student tireless effort, constructive and profitable knowledge to help us in the present as well as in the future. Enriching our learning, they assert their time and talents in the interest of their pupils—us.

Many teachers, some coming as new faculty members, help us in clubs, plays, student body functions, and enrich our lives in daily classes of every subject we take. Doing many things that we know nothing of, doing them for the students and the school, our educators present to us a background that can never be lost.

All departments work together as a whole body, but each separate division contributes greatly to the specific education. Physical education gives a chance to develop bodily strength and muscular control; language, the knowledge of other people, customs, and a new tongue; art, beauty and grace of lines or harshness of severity; social studies, the knowledge of our country's history and government; music, appreciation of tone and value of sound; home economics and industrial arts, practical knowledge for future life; science, the understanding of the life around us; commerce, the background for life in the business world of tomorrow; English, better speaking and composition and greater appreciation of the world of literature; and math, the value of numbers and reasoning power. Put all together, they give us expertly balanced education.

Every day, every school hour, these people work for us. Morning brings the bus drivers around to our houses to take us to school; noon sees women in the cafeteria and malt shop serving the campus crowd quickly and efficiently. In the office work is continuous from morning to night. Also, helping all day are the custodians who with our aid keep our school a better place.

GOVERNMENT

Each year the school government is proving to work better and better as more and more students take part in activities. Projects of the student body are developed by the officers and the cabinet, but the success depends entirely upon the students. The government works hard in completing such jobs as the Colt Citizenship Plan, bettering school management. The Colt Plan is graded by points, that are deducted for tardiness "ditching," or disorderly conduct. A great problem of the government was the parking lot which regulated parking speeding, and departure of cars. Later licenses were registered and cars were checked for decals. To climax the end of the year, a delightful, entertaining social night was put on—the Hi-Jinks, with clubs furnishing food or fun for many hours.

In accordance with the parking lot and the "Keep the Kampus Klean" campaign, the student court held sessions upholding the rules and regulations, bringing in witnesses, and pronouncing sentence upon offenders.

Cliff Garrett and Roger Hanks, second semester legislators.

Jim Hanifan, president of the Legislature and Mrs. Holt, faculty adviser

The Legislature, four members from each class, are elected by popular vote. This year they approved the Colt Citizenship Plan and sent delegates to regional conferences of California Association of Student Council. Promoting the San Gabriel Valley League dance was one job; another, checking all club charters. In passing bills and activities as the Hi-Jinks and noon dances, the legislators state all their requests to the administration.

Each class council has separate meetings where all student opinions are gathered together and where there is equal representation.

CLASSES

While reading this book, we must not overlook the classes and their activities. The seniors, now leaving us, have looked forward expectantly toward graduation; the juniors presented the Junior-Senior Prom, the sophomores got into the swing with their Sophomore Month, the freshmen new at first, are ready now to help the oncoming students. All have contributed faithfully to "Keep the Kampus Klean," rallies, games, and elections for class officers, legislature and representatives. Certainly each year brings some accomplishment, new things started and completed

. . . PROM . . . GRADUATION . . .

Planning this year's senior activities were the class officers: Beverly Scott, treasurer; Ralph Wilson, vice president; Bill Coulter, president; and Mary Ann Walton, secretary.

SENIORS

Finishing their last year, the seniors may sit back, relax, and reflect on all the activities they have done the past four years of service to Covina. Their senior year, the most important and memorable time, the class sponsored a senior dance in March and many sock hops for enjoyment and relaxation after the basketball games. All enjoyed the Senior Breakfast, one of the final touches to this last big moment in their high school lives. Indeed, they can feel pride in the final year giving their many talents and services to make lasting memories.

This group created another "Valentine Dance" which they dubbed the Sweetheart Ball, that was as big a success as ever. For the annual Junior-Senior Prom they were busily planning and decorating to have another well-earned accomplishment. With this achievement they should carry off many more laurels next year for which they are well prepared.

Don Nichols served as junior class president; Shirley Swaisgood, secretary; Sharon Davis, treasurer; and Ronnie Weinhold, vice-president.

During this year's sophomore activities were Evelyn Irvin, president; Janet Pitzer, treasurer; Janet Ashton, secretary; and Leona Bertonneau, vice-president.

If sophomore means "wise moron," these students tried to live up to the classic title. Their Sophomore Month was highlighted by the noon bake sale. After this success they planned a home party to be held at Mt. SAC. Their officers guided all the activities with a zestful and earnest attitude, an asset to a class establishing itself as "one of the best."

Serving the freshman class as officers were James Shelby vice-president; Carol Heisler, secretary; Donna Kean, treasurer; and Harold Stever, president.

Always willing to tackle something new and different, these energetic freshmen have accomplished many things in one short year here. They quickly got into the spirit of school affairs with the election of officers. Later they held their March class party, using the Casbah for the fun. Having joined in campus fun as enthusiastically as any of the other classes, they should make even greater progress next year to show the eagerness of the up and coming 1954 students.

ACTIVITIES

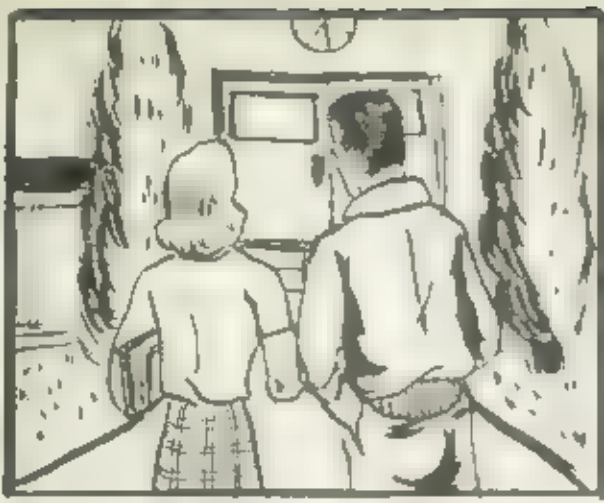

Our activities, led by the student officers, are one of the main points of school life, providing us with entertainment and responsibilities that add to the assets of our own personal life. They promote leadership among students and heighten school spirit when everyone gives his time and energy to these functions, thus serving his position to the best of his ability. Activities add so much to our campus—how could we do without them?

The pictures on this page are not of all the people who helped to publish our book this year, for there were many more, and everyone on the Cardinal staff is indeed grateful to them. To present this book every year takes an untold number of hours and days. Almost all the work is done as extracurricular activities of the students who put in many hours after school. The biggest job falls in the hands of the advisers and editors, for they must see that the work is done and done correctly. All year the book is in production. Even before school starts in the fall, the general layout is planned in order to get off to an early start.

Here we have put the pictures of activities and of friends you will want to remember, hoping to bring you memories which many years from now will continue to seem as real, vivid, and heartwarming as when they were experienced.

CARDINAL AND WHITE

It takes many people and much time to put out the Cardinal and White, for it is a tremendous job. The staff and cub journalism classes work together to put it together successfully. The first step is to decide the subject matter for each page. Then the paper is blocked out and stories are assigned. After stories have been typed, they are sent to the printer. Upon return, the articles are cut to size to be returned again to the printer, then printed. Finally the paper is ready to be distributed to the students. Let us say thanks to the Cardinal and White for an outstanding newspaper this year.

JUNIOR STATESMEN

The success of the student body elections depends for the most part upon this club. In past years they have managed the elections, and this year they published a handbook for the student body.

The Junior Statesmen attended conventions at Long Beach and Sacramento. In Sacramento they were able to use the Senate Chamber, and it was here that Jackie MacNeil had a bill passed by the Junior Statesmen. At the Long Beach convention Diane Raymond had a bill passed and sent to Governor Warren. Regional conventions were also attended at Santa Barbara, Torrance, and Monrovia.

Members of the Junior Statesmen Handbook Committee were Stewart Miller, Barbara White, Betsy Elliott, Norman Lockwood, Carol Bisbee (chairman), and Carolyn Nigg

The officers who planned this year's activities were Helen Quick, secretary; Carolyn Nigg, treasurer; Carol Bisbee, vice-president; Robert Dial, parliamentarian; Mr. Jensen, adviser; and Norman Lockwood, president

The honor dramatic club, with the guidance of Mrs. Smith, is very valuable for those who are interested in dramatics. For the Hi-Jinks the group gave an excellent evening performance. The famous initiation really tested members to see if they were worthy of being in the club. Masque and Dagger held regular meetings once a month and elected officers twice a year. Because they were accepted on their dramatic ability, the members feel worthy of the honor and do their best to keep up the fine traditions.

THESPIANS

Cheers go for a very active Thespians Club this year. Much of the praise belongs to the advisers, Mrs. Poage, Miss Austin, and Mr. Culbert. The group presented successful plays for our assembly and for the grammar schools. They also made a big hit at the Spring Play Festival, as well as at the Hi Jinks. For their social activities they went to see "Cyrano de Bergerac" in Los Angeles. To join this club, one must sign an application which will be considered by the members of the organization.

Do you remember Doreen Patten as "Fuffy" and Diane Pavelko as "Judy" in "Junior Miss"?

"What a Life" was presented by the Thespians at the Covina Grammar School.

Remember "The White Phantom"? Mary Lou Pates has just seen a ghost.

ART CLUB

The Art Club, under the direction of Miss Geier, has had many happy times to remember this year. In the fall they held an initiation of all new members and then a very successful beach party. Mid-year brought a skating party. Near the close of school they had the opportunity to attend a beautiful art exhibit which everyone enjoyed immensely. Another beach party followed to close the year. For future membership, one must make an application to be considered by the members.

Committee chairmen were (row one) Shirley Stauffer, Joy Hensel, Joanne Ford; (row two) Jerry Escalle, Roger Bowlin, Tom Brierley; (row three) Grace Diaz, Roy Figuered, and Ray Trego.

Everyone enjoyed the beach party.

COMMERCIAL ORCHESTRA

The Commercial Orchestra strove to improve their music and enjoyed playing for school activities. All fifteen members were fine musicians. A new slant was made this year by having Jean Hayek as their student director. Their last dance was held at the Hi-Jinks Par-a-Dice club. Let's hear more from them in the future.

This new group of musicians, the String Ensemble, was led by Mr. Sadler and Mr. Alsup. They played in the Back-to-School Night ceremonies and were enjoyed by all who attended. (Betty Needler, an accomplished violinist, was chosen to be their concert-mistress this year. This group is a valuable asset to the music department.

C. U. H. S. MARCHING BAND

The red and white uniforms of the marching band added a dash of color in an original half-time show for every game. The big event of the year was the trip to Mesa, Arizona, where the spectacular "Bull Fight" stunt was put on for the neighboring state's crowd. Other activities included participation in the Washington-U. S. C. football game festivities and various parades

The band and Meredith Alsup were seen at the Coliseum via television.

CONCERT BAND

After a year full of hard work and many concerts the concert band climaxed its success by receiving a vote of "superior" at both the District Festival at Alhambra and at the California Festival held at Fullerton. A rating for an A1 group!

DRILL TEAM

Dressed in red and white, the Drill Team, under the supervision of Mrs. Miller, added zip to our field this year. Routines were planned and executed brilliantly by each girl to help the success of the football season. Thursday nights the girls practiced to perfect fine drills.

SEXTETTE

This group of girls have had a busy but successful year. They have sung in our assemblies, in the Talent Show, and during the graduation ceremonies. The Women's Clubs of Baldwin Park and Covina and the Covina Lions Club have been entertained by them. Marjorie Henderson and Phyllis Shinn were the sopranos. Joanne Cunning and Charlotte Swope sang second soprano, and Mary Ann Robertson and Marie Stamati sang alto. Mr. Lynch was their capable director.

CARDINAL AND WHITE CHOIR

This musical organization had a busy year. They sang for the Covina Woman's Club, put on a concert for the Covina Little Theater Group, and attended the annual Music Festival in South Pasadena.

They sang at the high school during the Public Schools Week, and for Baccalaureate and graduation exercises. Their assembly program gave us one of the year's best assemblies.

They were directed by Mr. Lynch.

Meeting once a month, the California Scholarship Federation, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Garrison, planned their many activities as an informal gathering with members from six other schools in the Music Hall and a cleanup campaign with the Vanguards.

For membership one must have ten credits, usually comprised of three A's and one B. Get your best grades and be sure to join next year.

ALCYONIANS

The Alcyonians made everyone at school feel at home. Their flowers decorated the stage for assemblies, as well as new teachers' desks. The year's activities were Porter Day for the Hazel Hurst Foundation, corsage sales at football games, the Alcyonian football game raising money for a sports banquet, and goal post decorations during the football season. Because of these, as well as of the strict requirements for membership, the Alcyonians can feel proud of their service club.

Alcyonians put in a day's work as porters.

Do you remember that wonderful Alcyonian football game?

Members decorated the auditorium for Back-to-School Night.

Row three: Bill Turner, Harold Leigh, Fred Reid, Allen Conwell, Tom Wilson, Ron Weinhold, Edsel Ford.

ESQUIRES

The masculine service club had its informal initiation at San Dimas Park and its formal initiation at the Sportsman's Cavern. Some activities this year consisted of sponsoring the annual Esquire dance, acting as guides for Back-to-School Night and Public School Week, and ushering. Through their many activities and benefits and because of the rigid membership qualifications, the Esquires have gained a prestige on the campus as one of the most useful clubs.

Serving as first semester officers were Don Oelrich, president; Bill Coelter, vice-president; Allen Conwell, secretary; and Dave Buckley, treasurer. Second semester officers were Don Boots, president; Bill Coelter, vice-president; Truman Johnson, secretary; and Don Gibson, treasurer.

Dancing in bright shirts and grass skirts to the music of the Hawaiian Islands was enjoyed by all who attended the Esquire Dance, including Jeanie Havok and Harold Ford.

The Covina Chapter of the F.F.A. had a very eventful year. Many members entered animals at the Los Angeles County Fair, and Covina's booth took a fourth prize. The Covina Future Farmers' Judging Team took second place at the San Bernardino Orange Show in a group of about thirty schools.

They had field days at Mount San Antonio College, at the Palomar Angus Ranch, and another at Cal-Poly.

Covina was represented at the Whittier Fun Day basketball game by this group. The boys lost their two-year straight winning streak but were gracious losers.

This year the F.H.A. has been very busy with the activities of the Los Angeles County Section of the National F.H.A. With Doreen Stever elected president and Elizabeth Minghelli, secretary, they have enjoyed a prosperous year. To begin the year, a taco dinner was held. Then the Christmas Ball followed which was one of the most successful dances of the year. With spring came the convention of girls from Los Angeles County. To close a fine year, a Mother and Daughter Pot-Luck Dinner was presented.

Requirements are one semester of homemaking for this club which teaches much about a pleasant, successful future life.

Diane Pavelko, Necia Bishop, Wanda Munson, Doreen Stever, Shirley Stoolfire and Norma Belle Sampson helped to make the convention a success.

Shirley Stoolfire, president, cooperated with Doreen Crane Stever, section president.

The co-ordinators of Chapter Twenty-Eight of the F.H.A. in Los Angeles County were Mrs. Munson, adviser; Doreen Stever, section president; and Mrs. Dorothy Stone, supervisor.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League can indeed be proud of their organization. They govern themselves with help from the advisers, Mrs. Holt and Miss Welch.

An all year project is the candy counter, a seasonal service is the Colt Corral for the football games. A "Hello Week" to promote friendship was another achievement. Also, toys and clothes were collected for needy people here and in Europe. A delightful movie "Mother Was a Freshman" was sponsored. Again the annual Christmas tree was placed in the front hall. New projects consisted of adopting a ward at March Field, electing a Girls' League Mother, and financing a scholarship for a deserving senior girl. The year ended with a Senior Mothers' Tea and a swim party.

For a job well done this year, congratulations!

The Board members decorated the Christmas tree in the main hall.

All classes helped the League in the toy drive for Covina children.

Cokes are served at the Colt Corral. Students enjoy the candy counter at noon.

NURSES' CLUB

Mrs. Morley, the school nurse, was the sponsor of the Nurses' Club. Activities this year were a Christmas party at the home of Barbara Long and a visit to a nearby veterans' hospital in February. The ambition of many of these girls is to become a nurse in later life, but the only requirement for entering the club is a desire to learn about nursing.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen's Club is composed of fellows that earn a varsity letter in any sport. The little C that they wear on the shoulder of their sweaters is their emblem.

The president for this past year was Bob Clifford, the vice president, Ronald Weinhold, the secretary-treasurer, Jim Hanifan, and the adviser, Mr. Bemoll.

LIBRARY STAFF

When you check out a library book, do you ever realize there is any work to it? Working in the library seems an easy job, but there are many jobs for the library staff to do which the ordinary student does not realize. Some of their everyday tasks are repairing, dusting, filing, and checking books in and out during their assigned periods. They also have a short course of study which they must follow. According to Mrs. Herner, our librarian, courtesy and dependability are the two important requisites in order to belong to this group. Let's say thanks to a wonderful library staff this year

VANGUARDS

The clean, tidy campus around the high school is mostly due to the efforts of the Vanguards, with Mr. McClelland, their adviser. This service club serves directly under the Student Court and makes certain that the rules and regulations of our student body are carried out.

The work that has been done by this newly formed club has done much to make our campus one of the cleanest in this area.

LOS CONQUISTADORES

the Hi-Jinks candy booth which received honorable mention, and the Spanish movies open to the public. They highlighted the year with a long awaited dinner at Taco Kitchen. With all these they have made a long and memorable year.

Officers were Carol Guyer, secretary; Bill Coulter, president; and Pat Custer, treasurer.

New members are having fun at the initiation.

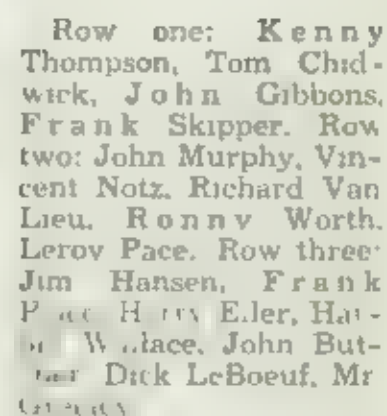

COVINA TRI-Y

The Knights were very helpful in their campus clean-up program this year and in their dependability to hold the line markers at football games. They also assisted the Esquires at Back-to-School Night.

The officers were Jim Hansen, president; Ronald Worth, vice-president; and John Murphy, secretary-treasurer. Their adviser was Mr. Greeley.

Covina Tri-Y members, advised by Mrs. Bates began their activities by attending "Y-Day" in the Hollywood Bowl and then the U.C.L.A.-Stanford game. Later in the year there was a lecture by a noted hair stylist. As a grand finale a joint meeting was held with the Covina Hi-Y. Tri-Y helped to make our school year a happy one by giving us their service in all our activities.

BALDWIN PARK Y-TEENS

Baldwin Park Y-Teens enthusiastically led off this school year by sponsoring an all-school skate at the Shamrock Roller Rink. Before school had even started, they entertained a group of girls from Hawaii. Some of their other activities were a beach party during Easter vacation, a dart booth at the Hi-Jinks, and a Mother and Daughter Banquet. The Y-Teens have helped to make the 1951 school year very successful

The Y-Teen sponsored All-School Skate was an enjoyable evening for all those that attended

HI-Y

The Hi-Y here on our campus got off to a good year by a combined initiation with the Citrus Hi-Y. You have seen the new members, as well as the old, selling football programs at all the home games. In October they went to Los Angeles for "Y-Day" and had a thrilling experience watching U.C.L.A. play Stanford in the Coliseum. Their Hi-Jinks booth had balloons filled with water to throw at friends. The Hi-Y has always been an active club with this year being no exception.

First semester officers were Harold Leigh, president; Don Cole, secretary; Jim Hanifan, vice-president; and Jim Coates, treasurer.

SPORTS

As the years pass, we can always look back on many enjoyable moments spent in either watching or participating in various sports. Everyone will remember our wonderful football team, the excitement of basketball games, brilliant stars of track, the thrill of baseball games, and versatile tennis racqueteers. The girls had their G. A. A. which was active throughout the entire year. Yes, entertainment, sportsmanship, school spirit, all these services rendered from sports toward school goals were immense.

SONG LEADERS

At football and basketball games these five peppy girls led the rousing and rhythmic songs that encouraged the teams on to victory. At rallies our leaders got the fans in practice for the big night ahead. Everyone caught the spirit of such songs as "On Covina" and "Fight for Victory." As the dash of white sweaters, plaid skirts, and pom-poms went flashing by, we knew the song leaders were ready and waiting for another song for C. U. H. S.

CHEER LEADERS

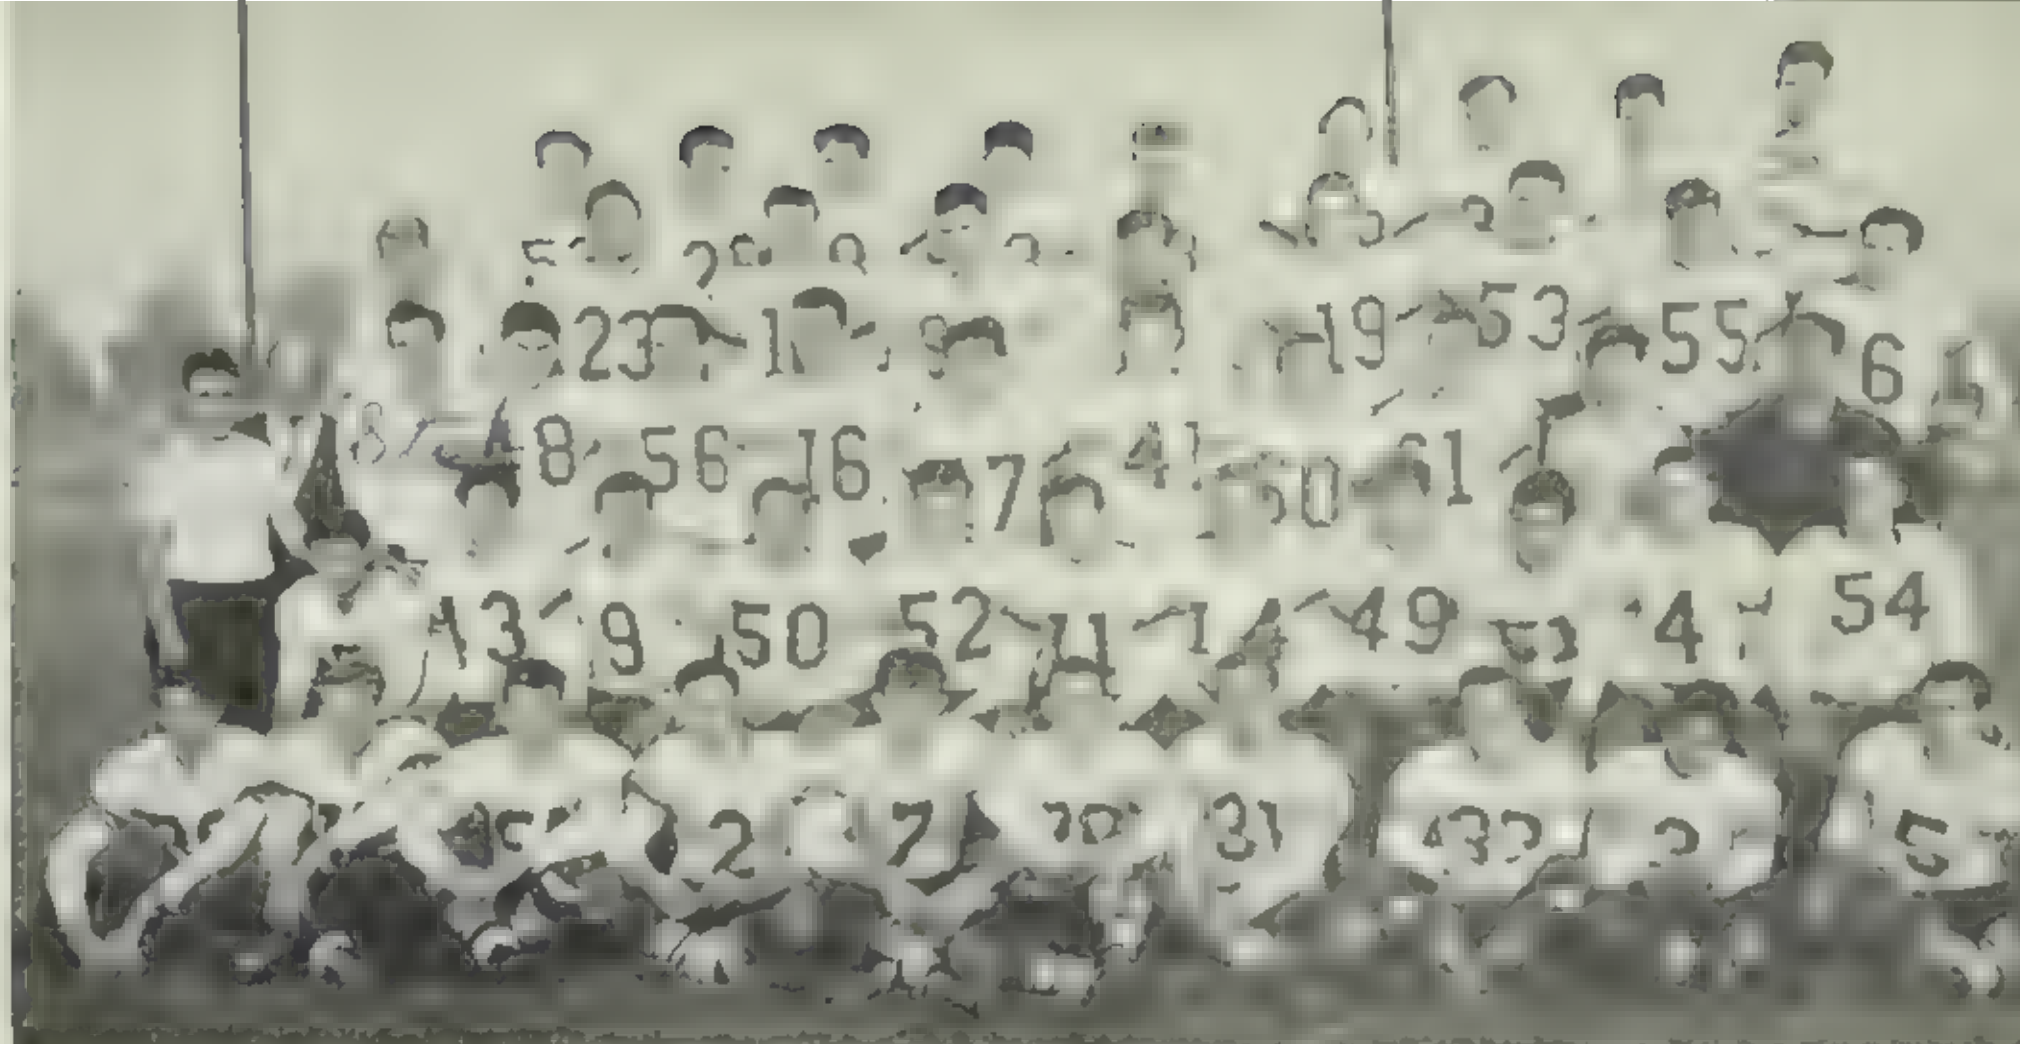

"Skyrocket," "Bobo," "Go, Go, Go, Covina," and our new popular yell, "The Colt Stomp," were chanted again this year under the direction of our energetic and nimble yell leaders, who at all the games stirred the dust with their flying feet. They encouraged the people in the stands to cheer louder and longer, urging the team on to many victories that they achieved in both football and basketball. All the students give thanks to Dewey, Al, and Fred for one very successful year as yell leaders for Covina.

LEAGUE CHAMPS

Moving into the first round of the C. I. F. Southern Division playoffs after winning San Gabriel Valley League Crown, the Colts drew a very tough opponent in the Compton Tar Babies, the defending C. I. F. champs. Final score of the classic contest was 39-27, with Compton's taking first place money. Had it not been for a heavy fog which limited visibility to only 25 yards, the outcome may have been vastly different. An interesting fact was that Covina, in the losing, scored more points than any other team in the playoffs even though Compton did the winning.

VARSITY COLTS

Covina's gridiron forces, under direction of Head Coach L. H. Bemoll, moved through their most successful season since the years 1925-26, when they took the C.I.F. championship. This year's Colts downed six of their opponents while losing only three and having only one tie.

Piling up a total of 264 points to their combined opponents 145, the C.U.H.S. warriors avenged a neat 264 points per game to the opposition's 14½. In no game except the Montebello encounter did the Colts fail to score on at least one run of 35 to 50 yards or more.

DOWNEY — 6 COVINA — 35

Bouncing back from their upset loss to Montebello the week before, the Colts showed one and all that they were the class of the league by trouncing Downey by the score of 35 to 6. Fred Knapp, junior halfback, sparked the home lads with two touchdowns, one coming on a 75-yard punt return.

MONTEBELLO — 18 COVINA — 13

The opening game of the San Gabriel Valley League was a disastrous one for the Colts as they dropped a tight game to the Oilers by a close 18 to 13 count. In the opinion of many, if the game had been only five minutes longer, the upsurging Covinans might have won.

BELL GARDENS — 0 COVINA — 38

The Lancers of Bell Gardens fielded a well drilled but vastly inferior squad against the Covina boys as the Colts marched to their second S. G. V. L. win by the score of 38-0. Fred Knapp again led the Colts with three touchdowns, followed by "Scooter" Porterfield with two and Don Oelrich with one.

ROSEMEAD — 12 COVINA — 25

Championship! With the conference title hanging in the balance, Covina set out to prove that they were worthy of the crown. Co-capt. Don Oelrich brought the crowd to its feet with a dazzling 80-yard run for a touchdown with the opening kickoff. From there on, it was Covina's game as Oelrich scored all the 25 points to sew up the league crown.

COLTLETS

This year's Bee football team finished with a fine record of 5 wins and 2 defeats, thus gaining recognition as the first championship team in recent years. Under the able coaching of Mr. Vaniman and Mr. Greeley, the team soon rounded into shape. Winning 2 practice tilts and losing one to our rival, Monrovia, we began the league with triumph by defeating Montebello. Then came the upset of the season at the hands of Downey. Next the Coltlets defeated Bell Gardens. Then came what the team called "the game of the year" with Rosemead. Winning this game, the Coltlets moved into a tie for first place honors.

The team voted Bob Anderson "most valuable player". Ed Wynkoop received the most improved player trophy.

High point man was Darrel Mayes. Dale Anderson flew over the bar to go to the C. I. F. finals in the pole jump. Frank Hicks set a record of 19.2 in the 180.

Although the J. V. baseball squad won only two of their league games, there was fine spirit throughout. Many of the boys showed much promise for the years to come. Over half of the games lost were lost by only one run. With a change in breaks it could easily have gone the other way.

The team voted Edmund Chacon to be their captain and also their most valuable player. Jim Shelby received honors as the most improved player. Mr. McClellan was the J. V. coach.

RACKETMEN

The spirit of the racket men was raised during the league season, inspired by Don Gibson's brilliant achievements. With only one returning varsity player the outlook for Covina's tennis team seemed very bleak. Because of inexperience the varsity team suffered many defeats during the first half of the season. This was offset, however, by the junior varsity squad's defeating every school in the league. This show of determination guarantees Covina an exceptional team next year. No coach could ask for a finer group of boys. Just ask Mr. Pflueger.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

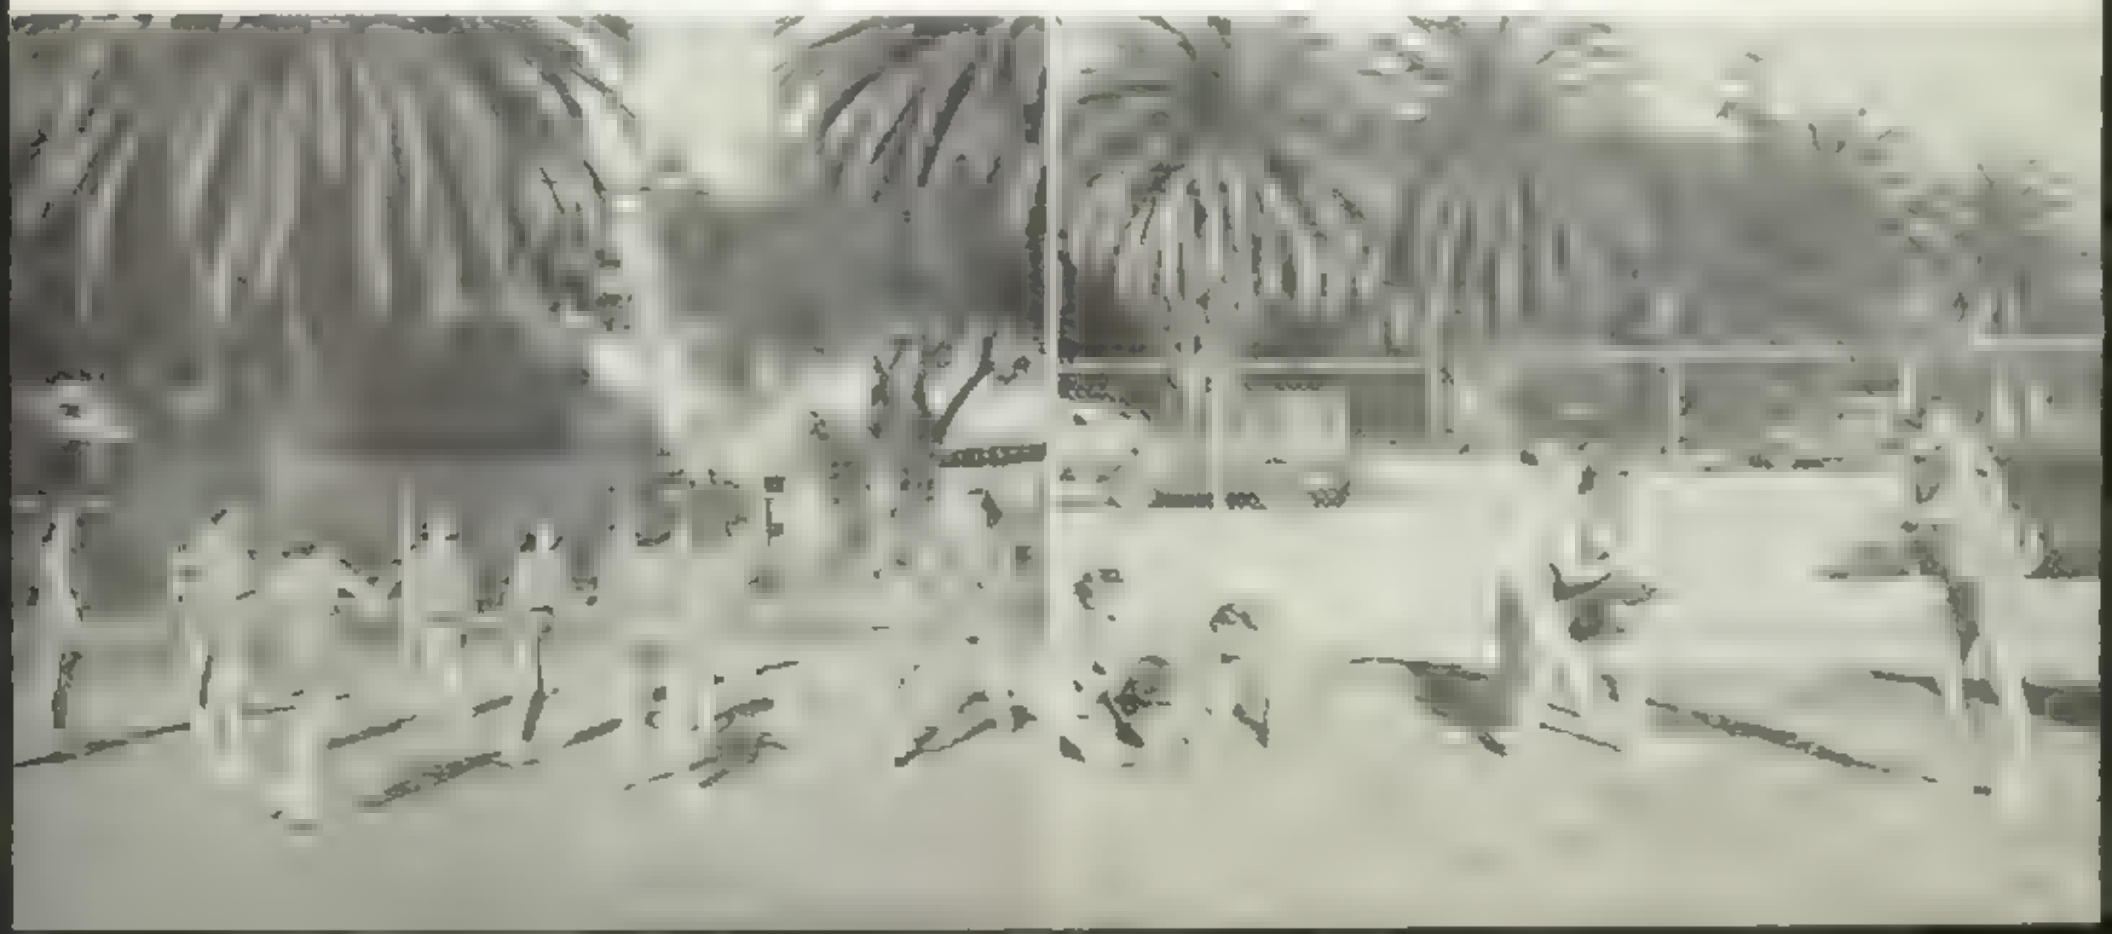

Sport enthusiasts all joined together in the Girls' Athletic Association to play after school several days a week. Executive officers elected at the first of the year were Ernestina Mendez, president; Nona Belle Sampson, vice-president, and Mary Quick, secretary-treasurer. Miss Swan was the general director. Every girl joined in different sports of her choice at different seasons of the year. They started with volleyball, then basketball, speedball, hockey, and the spring sport of baseball.

The G. A. A. playdays were held at Hoover High and Glendale High. No rewards were given except that gained by excellent sportsmanship. Next year Covina will play host to the Fall Playday.

The girls' Tennis Club, practicing every Wednesday after school, easily kept in shape for all the matches they had with South Pasadena, Whittier, and Citrus. Although their opponents often gained the majority of the points, these girls always played for the spirit of the game. At Christmas time they collected Christmas baskets for Covina's needy people. The year's activities were led by Mrs. Hall.

Speedball, with Mrs. Miller, adviser, and Sue Burkhalter, manager, snagged the tournament this year for the junior class. Every player joined eagerly in the afterschool fun.

Again the juniors won the tournament in the fast moving sport of basketball. The group of enthusiastic players was managed by Dorothy Lewis, with Mrs. Stone, their adviser.

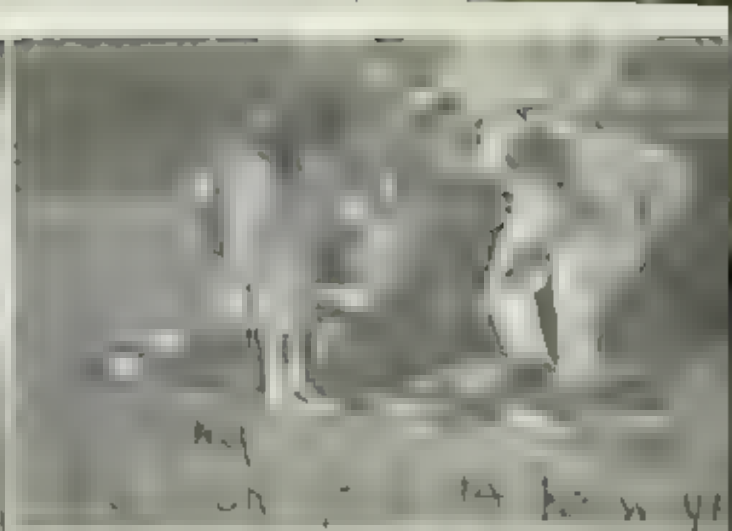

It's speedball! Watch the seniors take the ball down the field.

It's basketball for the juniors. Go to it, girls!
